

The Other Mozart
Samantha Hoefler

Tuesday, October 24 at 1PM & 7PM

The true, forgotten story of Nannerl Mozart, the sister of Amadeus - a prodigy, keyboard virtuoso and composer who performed throughout Europe with her brother, to equal acclaim - but her work and her story faded away, lost to history.

This performance transports the audience into a world of outsized beauty and delight -- but also of overwhelming restrictions and prejudice. There, in communion with the audience, this other Mozart at last tells her story.

"Strikingly beautiful." - New York Times

The Elephant in Every Room I Enter
Gardiner Comfort

Tuesday, November 28 at 1PM & 7PM

This intimate solo piece is about living with Tourette's Syndrome, a neurological disorder characterized by uncontrollable physical and vocal tics (sudden movements and sounds). Using an erratic and energetic performance style, Comfort shares his life as an actor with Tourette's and discovers, for the first time in his life, how he can be himself.

"... a talented performer with TS sharing honest, touching stories." — New York Theatre Review

Call Mr. Robeson
Tayo Aluko

Tuesday, February 27, 2018 at 1PM & 7PM

Paul Robeson is a world-famous actor, singer and civil rights campaigner. When he gets too radical and outspoken for the establishment's liking, he is branded a traitor to his country, is harassed, and denied opportunities to perform or travel. One of the 20th Century's most impressive but overlooked figures is revived in this powerful, compelling tour-de-force performance that takes audiences on a roller-coaster journey through Robeson's remarkable and eventful life.

"A triumph" — BroadwayWorld.com

Everything Is Fine Until It's Not
Doreen Oliver

Tuesday, March 13 at 1PM & 7PM

This funny, heartfelt one-woman show is about a workaholic film producer whose life goes off-script. Just when Doreen feels like she's got this parenting thing down, her hair catches fire, her mother tells her she's doing everything wrong, and her son is diagnosed with autism. Guided by an irrepressible crew of old-school matriarchs, Doreen does everything possible to "fix" her son — and starts to unravel when she realizes she can't. A funny yet honest look at how we try to change the people that matter most to us, and how we cope when we realize we can't.

"Oliver takes the audience through a myriad of emotions and at times you completely forget that there is only one woman on that stage." — NBCNews.com

unFRAMED
Iyaba Ibo Mandingo

Tuesday, April 10 at 1PM & 7PM

UnFRAMED is the emotional, powerful, and uplifting self-portrait of Iyaba Ibo Mandingo—poet, painter, playwright, husband, father. After reveling in an idyllic childhood in Antigua, 11-year-old Iyaba is rudely awakened when his family moves to the United States—where he believes the streets are paved with gold. What he meets is a world of betrayal and racism. Yet, through poetry, storytelling, song and the portrait he paints, Iyaba shares his joy in the journey of finding his voice for change through the creation of colorful canvases and equally powerful, picturesque stories.

"A tour de force..." — Amsterdam News

Tuesdays With Stories & Music at Club28

Single Ticket Price: $15 (1PM & 7PM shows are the same price)

Subscription discounts available